ACHES AND PAINS!
"I ache all over!" What a common expression; and how much it means to many a poor sufferer! These aches have a cause, and more frequently than is generally supposed, that cause is in the Liver or Kidneys. No disease is more painful or serious than these, and no remedy is so prompt and effective as his remedy has yet been discovered that is so effective in all KIDNEY AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, MALARIAL DISPEPSIA, etc., and yet it is simple and harmless. It is a concentration of pure herbs combined with wonderful curative powers of herbs which, nature has provided for the cure of disease. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system.
Hon. Thadeus Stevens, the distinguished statesman, once wrote to a fellow member who was suffering from Kidney disease, as follows:
"Dr. Mishler's Herb Bitters, I believe will cure you. I have used it for both indigestion and effectually relieved me. I have also used it in other cases of constitutional debility, and never knew it to fail."

CITY NEWS.

James Martin who brutally beat Ella Kennedy, Sunday last, is under arrest.

The State Health Board is informed that considerable scarlet fever prevails at Cranberry.

C. L. Ward was arraigned today on the third offense for drunkenness, and is went hard with him.

The Star Drill Company of Rushville, capital stock $75,000, has been incorporated under the State law.

Rev. Dr. Hamilton Taylor, who preached last week, will receive luncheon on Monday in the Chamber of Commerce.

The lecture of Myron W. Reed, at Plymouth Church tonight, on "The Appeal to Cæsar," for the benefit of the Tree Kindergarten, will not be forgotten. An informal reception will follow the lecture. Dr. J. F. Masters, editor of the Air Line News, furnishes the particulars of the suicide last night, at Kokomo, of Harry White, son of a prominent merchant. White was probably drunk crazed, and shot himself twice in the head.

The program for William Horatio Clarke's organ recital at Plymouth Church tomorrow afternoon includes selections from the following: Wagner, Mozart, Henry Parkhurst, Bellini, Wagner, Leonardo Vinci and Rossini.

Orville Chidlaw sues James L. Simpson, claiming $1,000 damages for assault. Wm. H. Thompson also sues the Pittsburgh Railway Company, claiming that his suit is for damages for being struck by a train from the defendant's engines. He asks $5,000.

The new Insane Hospital commissioners met today and allowed bills aggregating $23,361.70. The Deputy Auditor of State was directed to issue warrants for $50,000 to pay those bills and contracts already let for work done to September and October. The commissioners also ordered repairs that failed to strike water at Evansville, and citizens will probably have to be resorted to at the hospital there.

Amusements.

"The Tin Soldier" at the Grand yesterday afternoon and evening filled every seat and scorer. The play is full of music, action and is the most abandoned fun, without, however, a trace of coarseness or vulgarity. It is a story of adventure, and the scene is laid where the persons must have been born to fit the characters, so perfectly does "the panic-meet fit the other." The play is a telling picnic from beginning to finish, and the wonder is how its much fun, its fullest and action can be crowded into the time and space occupied. There were several talking and decidedly original songs in the piece, all of which were well sung, George W. Wilson, as the plumber, and Miss Lizzie Evans, as the servant girl, were the break-neck business on their heads and did it with a wrist. The Violet of Amy Ames was as original a piece of character acting as is often seen—robust and healthy, and the little lady was a success. Victoria Bridge, and Wade Reynolds, Booth and Bachelor did splendid work, as did all the rest of the company. The piece will run the rest of the week.

Tonight will be Mr. English's entertainment and no one who has ever seen him can fail to be present. The play was presented here last year, and it has lost none of its flavor and "go." The plot turns on the likeness of the two Mr. Johns" who are so much alike as to deceive their most intimate friends. Stewart and Hall, the two Johns, are both excellent types of high character. The Two Johns" will be repeated tonight and to-morrow afternoon and evening.

Capsule Factory Damaged by Fire.

The building, corner of Shelby and Sanders streets, leased by the United States Wire Nail Works Company, and Beauty Hall & Bailey, capsule manufacturers, was partially wrecked by fire last night. The nail works are managed by Dan Chenoweth, and the loss by fire and water will exceed $1,000, and is fully covered by insurance in companies represented in Brown's agency. Insurance amounting for Northern & Cushing, Scofield, Mass., Union of California and Royal. There was also a three-thousand-dollar blaze on the office, owned by the Citizens of Anderson, and occupied by Beauty Hall & Bailey carried $200 insurance on stock and $4,500 on machinery, and the loss is very heavy on stock and light on the other. The insurance is held with the Westchester, New York; Commercial Union and Guardian, St. Louis, Commercial Union and Guardian.

The Work House Act sustained.

Judge Howe delivered a written opinion this morning in the case of Ella Kennedy. The Work House law is involved in the habeas corpus proceedings of Will D. Coon, the blanking agent County Commissioner Demmerger et al. In this opinion the full bench of the Supreme Court concurred. The legal point decided is, that the Work House law is not in conflict with the constitution, as claimed by the court convicting him, but has for its primary object the disciplining and control of convicts during the time of their imprisonment. The proceedings were quashed by the court, and it is presumed he will appeal.

"Allah Ku Zim."

Mystic Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles Mystic Shrine, will meet at the rooms of the Scottish Rite Temple this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Business of importance. By order of the "Grand Sultan of Hadi Allah al Mattie." Members are requested to wear the red fez. A large attendance is expected, and the work will be rendered in such an impressive manner that tears will be drawn from the eyes of the most Ancient Illustrious Noble present.

The Usual Appeal.

Wm. Purdin, bartender for Wadsetzer, arrested for selling liquor yesterday, made a false defense today, and rose to which the Court gave no credence, and the Mayor fined him $10 and costs, which he paid to the Sheriff. His attorney acted as if he were a pienic, and at once appealed to the Criminal Court. The Mayor intimated that his fat appeals and consequent delays, the authorities would be compelled to enforce the law against recidivous saloon keepers.

An Alleged "Con" Man.

Patrolman Henry has captured John Brayden, an alleged "con" man, who victimized Henry C. Duffield, of Bridgeport, and Wm. Hoffman, of Terre Haute, out of $100 dollars each by the three-card-trick racket. Brayden lodged at the Germania House, and also had a room on Madison avenue, and on the Duffield charge he has waived preliminary examination.

STATE NEWS.

James Pope, of Greenfield, last night visited the entertainment at the Hudson School and while there had his horse and buggy stolen from the rack where it was hitched. The horse and buggy were found this morning a few miles west of here, the thieves having abandoned it.

James Cooper, a wealthy farmer of Shelby county, feels that the pencil he signed to go on the bond of Jacob Bowers, who left there for Southern in jail, turns out to be a promissory note for $200.

The funerals of the late Reform School 4 Fingerhold, celebrated Thanksgiving in grand style. Governor Gray, Governor-elect Governor Mount, was present, the ex-Governor last night conferred at length by the Indianapolis and Governor by the heirs of the school.

Robert Walters, a machine fellow, shot taken out to the asylum of Rockville by Sheriff Hamilton, of Parke county, on Tuesday. He was held by insane here, and if ever he returned they would keep him, and that his family would be sent to Jackson to live with Her wife is of questionable character.

The Commercial Club of Terre Haute at Lafayette yesterday for the Western Union Telegraph Company to restrain the Brush Electric Light Company from placing the electric light wires on their poles, or from using them for that purpose. The Brush Electric Light Company will contest.

Caroline Kesler of Terre Haute, has begun proceedings to set aside the will of her husband John H. Kesler on the ground that he was insane. He died on the 6th of the present month, and left his estate, valued at seventy-five thousand dollars, to religious institutions. Among the latter were the Second Evangelical Church of Terre Haute, Northern Reformed Mission-house of Franklin, Ohio, and the Orphans' Home of Terre Haute. Mrs. Kesler's allegation of Covington, Ky., and St. Anthony's Hospital of Terre Haute.

A FOUR-MILLION-DOLLAR SALE.

The Morgan Gorgeous Collection of Paintings, Plate and Jewels.

NEW YORK, November 27.—The most important art sale that has ever taken place in this country will last week and for March, 3, 4 and 5 next. It will be conducted by the American Art Association, and will comprise the pictures, etchings, engravings, bronzes, bric-a-brac, coins and silver of the late Mary J. Morgan, wife of John Pierpont Morgan. The art sale has ever appreciated this in respect of Mrs. Morgan is estimated to be worth nearly or much. Mr. Kirby of the American Art Association, says that with the jewels included the sale will fully reach a million.

The silver in the collection is in weights and ounces, and is the finest ever sold at auction, with the possible exception of the rare manufacturing establishments at Rome and Paris. Wilson and Hughes, one year ago of candelabras cost $24,000. They are worth $40,000 to-day, and will be sold.

The collection is chiefly of porcelains, pottery and rare articles of virtu is estimated high itself. In Oriental porcelain Mrs. Morgan has a collection of 1,000 pieces, and there is nothing in the Louvre, Wallace collection at Baltimore. As a collection of Oriental pottery purely, that is the finest collection in this country. Mrs. Morgan's collection of Japanese is also unsurpassed, and in this respect had no equal.

A collection in etchings and engravings including much that is rare and valuable, is part of the intended sale. Their estimated value is $100,000
